

You are the expert on your child.

If you feel that your child is missing developmental milestones or have any general concerns about his or her development, please “Speak up!”

Talk with your doctor and ask for a developmental screening. Discuss the results with your doctor.

If your doctor does not use a developmental screening tool like the Ages and Stages Questionnaire, you can find it online at www.easterseals.com under the Explore Resources tab. Share the results with your doctor.

The beginning years in a child’s life are essential to his or her future learning and development. If you would like to have your child evaluated for potential delay, at no cost, contact the following services:

People can't seem to understand him but I understand him perfectly!

He seems weaker on his left side. Is that okay?

Is it normal for my son to not look into my eyes?

Why isn't my son rolling over?

My son doesn't notice me when I come in the room. Should I be worried?

Shouldn't he be talking by now?
